

hello.

I am a Chicago based system and service designer with a background in visual communication. Currently I am enrolled as a Master's student at IIT Institute of Design. My interest in design lies at the intersection of systems thinking and sustainability. To that end, the Sustainist Design Guide is my bible.